TTSD Website

I have a home page on the TTSD website. I try to post items on my page that I think will be useful to parents. You can go to my page to find copies of this and future newsletters and the cover page of our homework assignments. I have also posted links to help you and your child with math. There are links to online flashcards as well as worksheets you can print out.

There are also lists of key math vocabulary words that 3rd graders need to learn. You can navigate to my page from the Mary Woodward homepage or go directly to

This Week in Science:

We are continuing our study of plants. Each student is germinating a set of seeds and watching carefully the stages of growth that their young plants will go through. Today we used our "dad" sized socks to take a walk through the garden and "catch" some seeds. We'll be watering our socks to see what happens to these little hitch hikers.

This Week in 3rd Grade:

Reading: Character, Setting, Plot
Dictionary Guide Words

Writing: Complete sentences
(Subject/Predicate)

Science: Plant Life Cycles

Math: Place Value up to one million
